NATIONAL CARERS WEEK JUNE 12 TO 17 2011: Family carers are people who provide care to a loved one in their own home, they are the greatest army of unsung volunteers in the country. In many cases their lives are consumed by the care of loved ones who are ill, frail or have a disability. The care they give is essential to the well-being, dignity, independence and enjoyment of life of the person being cared for. Caring work is often difficult and relentless, it eats into free time, it can consume your energy and even your health. It can be lonely work that goes unnoticed except inside the immediate family. Do you have a family member who is providing care to a loved one? You can support this person by offering to share the care or provide some respite. Caring for Carers Ireland is an organisation which supports Family Careers and those for whom they care. You may contact them at Carmody Street, Ennis for assistance and support. To quote Mark Twain, caring is the kind of language "which the deaf can hear and the blind can see".

THANK YOU: Our heartfelt thanks and gratitude to you our community, neighbours, friends & family for your support through these past few weeks. For the time you took to share a kindly word, prayer, thought or deed. Thank You & Is Feider Linn, Michael & Maria Hartmann, Kilrush.
