Peace I leave you, my own peace I give you.

Don't we all want this gift of peace? Peace in our hearts, the Easter gift of the risen Lord, the promise of the Spirit of God.

The promises of Jesus do not seem to include wealth, employment, freedom from tension, success, health for ever, or freedom from worry, nor many more things we hope and pray for.

Peace I leave you, my own peace I give you.

So what is this peace? The peace that nobody can take away:

The peace of being valued for who I am, of being at home with other people, of letting go past hurts, of doing what I know to be right, of being convinced of eternity,

Of being loved, and of knowing the possibility of love - love given, promised and shared, of knowing that love and life will last forever, and the peace of forgiveness when I fail.

The peace of being always with someone who totally loves us, and believes in us: who sees us and loves us as we are, and calls us to be what we can be.

And the peace of knowing that with Jesus, we can create in love a world according to the mind of God.

Peace I leave you, my own peace I give you.
