ENNIS GENERAL HOSPITAL: Despite the fact that the authorities tell us that a final decision has not yet been made, the news coming through this past week paints a very gloomy picture for the future of the A & E Services at Ennis General Hospital. If these services are removed from Ennis, then somebody becoming seriously ill in this parish will have to be taken all the way to Dooradoyle, something which could make the difference between life and death. Are we prepared to accept this? If not now is the time to make our voices heard. Tomorrow may be too late!
