Reflection

Whatever happens to me in life
I must believe that somewhere
In the mess or madness of it all,
There is a sacred potential -
A possibility for wondrous redemption
In the embracing of all that is.
For the unfolding of my journey,
In all it's soaring delight
And crushing pain,
I may be sure that God is there -
Always ahead, behind, below and above,
Encompassing all the befalls me
In a circle of deep compassion.
And there, above the darkness
That wraps me round
The bright wings of the Dove
Hover and beat in gentle healing love
And invitation to New Rising

Kathleen McCarthy describes the lively musical and dancing scene of her youth in Glenamaddy, where she met and later married Clare musician Tommy McCarthy. She relives memories of the purchase of his Uilleann pipes, made by Leo Rowsome, their open house in London, which attracted many famous musicians and groups, his theatre and film work, their family's development as traditional musicians, and their later permanent move to Miltown. Susan Crawford shares her vivid memories of her Cloonanaha home life of hard manual work, childhood escapades, house dances, prayer, Stations, wakes, Miltown Races, pisreogs, the prophecies of Colmcille, her time in the old National School across the road, Séamus Mac Cruitín's 19th century Hedge School beside their home, and some unusual personal experiences and omens in later life. Susan also treats us to six rare songs and some recitations from her remarkable repertoire.
