INTO THE WEST FOR BARRETSTOWN: The Kildare horse driving club are organising a sponsored drive of 150 miles from Kildare to Clare on the weekend of 2nd/3rd June in aid of Barretstown, a charity which is part of the association of Hole In The Wall Gang Camps and helps children with cancer have fun. Barretstown is a therapeutic recreation programme for children with cancer and other life threatening illnesses and their families and it is offered to them entirely free of charge. Originally set up by Paul Newman, the Hollywood actor, the charity helps children aged 7-17 who come from Ireland and 22 European countries to take part in activities such as art and outdoor adventure. It is the first camp of its kind to be opened outside of the USA. Each year Barretstown needs to raise €4.4 million to fund its life-changing programmes, and this is raised through voluntary donations from individuals, companies and by charity events. Anybody interested in joining the Kildare Horse driving club on the route is very welcome. (No Sulkies please) Support this worthy cause by contacting Terence or Noreen on 065 7084708 (Clare) or Pat on 087 6377505 (Kildare). ROUTE: Saturday 2nd June leaving Kildare at 6am, passing through Killaloe between 1pm-3pm, arriving in Inagh between 6pm-8pm. Sunday 3rd June leaving Inagh @12midday, arriving in Miltown @1pm, arriving in Quilty @2.30pm.
